

Sixty-Eight Honor Students Lauded at Scholars' Luncheon; John Andrews Ranks First in Senior Class of 453 Students

Honor guests at the Annual Scholars Luncheon were sixty-eight Carlsbad High students, all honor students who have maintained a grade average of 3.75 or better.

Among those honored were seven Internationalite sons and daughters, six of whom are pictured here. From left to right are: J. W. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Anderson; T. E. Lusk, attorney and main speaker; Betty Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Riley; Lawrence Borskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Borskey; Sandra Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Armstrong; John Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews; Karen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson; Claude McCausland, president, Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce. Not shown in the picture but also attending was Charles Johanningmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johanningmeier.

Outstanding student and valedictorian of his class is John Frank Andrews, who finished first in a senior graduating class of 453. His father, Frank, is an electrician with IMC and he too had an outstanding high school record, finishing third in his class.

In addition to carrying a heavy load, included many accelerated courses, Johnny has earned many honors, both locally and state wide. He is an accomplished artist and makes it pay off in part time work.

Praising these young students at the Scholars' Luncheon was T. E. "Gene" Lusk, Carlsbad attorney and former state senator.

He reminded the students that each of them had certain responsibilities.

"You must bear in mind that the very system of government which has made it possible for you to exercise your individual effort and talent is worthy of your help toward its perpetuation.

"I would say," he concluded, "that each of you has three obligations: First, to continue to develop your intellect; second, to develop spiritually in order that you will have a discriminating sense of value, and third, that you dedicate your capacity to learn and achieve to the end that this government which has made it possible can continue to be a haven and stronghold for free men and women."
